

YOUNG GIRL TO SWIM IN RACE FOR 15 MILES

Nora Leahy

New York.—Miss Nora Leahy doesn't want much, but she does want the long distance championship for women, and she is going after it soon when she attempts the 15-mile swim from the Battery to Coney Island.

This feat was first accomplished by Alfred Brown, the world's champion long distance swimmer. Miss Leahy holds many medals for short distance swimming records.

RESTAURANT BOSSES JARRED

Contempt of court is the charge Dudley Taylor, attorney for the Powers and Efting restaurants, brings against Elizabeth Maloney and Anna Timeus. Taylor argued before Judge Windes yesterday that these two women are officers of the waitresses' union and as such have directed that picketing shall go on. The court set Monday for the hearing.

Taylor addressed the court: "Your honor, may I ask you to direct that the pickets cease picketing until this case is heard?"

"No," said Judge Windes. "No, the court can not grant such an order."

Taylor asked: "When will it be heard Monday?"

Windes replied: "It will be placed at the foot of the contested motion calendar."

It was one throwdown after another for Dudley Taylor. When Taylor started in he said the case was like the Henrici case, and Windes after listening to his argument told Taylor in legal language: "You're wrong, young fellow, you're up the wrong tree. Try another one. I sat on the Henrici case and you can't pull any of this stuff on me." When Taylor urged that Windes give the contempt stuff a hearing yesterday and not put it off till Monday Windes gave him the once over.

Taylor leaked important information. He said that not only all Powers and Efting restaurants interested, but also the Chicago Association of Food Exchanges, whose owners run a large number of restaurants, with by-laws like those of the hotel and restaurant men's combine.
